

Consanguinity, Outbreeding

- Bresler, J. B. (1970). Outcrossings in Caucasians and fetal loss. Social Biology 17: 17-25.
- Freire-Maia, A., Stevenson, C. and Morton, N. E. (1974). Hybridity effect on mortality. Social Biology 21: 232-234.
- Hook, E. B. and Schull, W. J. (1973). Why is XX fitter? Evidence consistent with an effect of X-heterosis in the human female from sex ratio in offspring of first cousin marriages. Nature 244: 570-573.
- Khilchevskaya, R. I. and Kalabushkin, B. A. (1984). Genetic processes in large city populations. Moscow: 176-177.
- Li, C. C. (1954). The correlation between parents and offspring in a random mating population. American Journal of Human Genetics 6: 383-386.
- Morton, N. E. (1975). Interracial crosses and group differences, In Racial Variation in Man (eds. (Institute of Biology, London).
- Morton, N. E., Chung, C. S. and Mi, M. P. (1967). Genetics of inter-racial crosses in Hawaii. Monographs in Human Genetics 3.
- Parsons, P. A. (1971). Extreme-environment heresies and genetic loads. Heredity 26: 477-483.
- Sanna, E., Soro, M. R., Cau, E. and Floris, G. (2002). Are there differences in body dimensions among children from matings at different exogamic levels? Collegium Antropologicum 26: 159-169.
- Sanna, E., Soro, M. R., Cau, E. and Floris, G. (2003). The question of differences in body dimensions between children from endogamic and exogamic matings: a study in Sardinia. Anthropologischer Anzeiger 61: 287-296.
- Schmitt, L. H., Harrison, G. A. and Mascie-Taylor, C. G. N. (1991). Marital distance and child variability. Annals of Human Biology 18: 121-126.
- Shurkhal, A. V. (1984). Outbreeding effects on the distribution of average heterozygosity and body length in humans. Moscow: 199-201.